Raytown School District announces the hiring of Matt Verlinden as the Director of Technology

(RAYTOWN, Mo.) Raytown Quality Schools is pleased to announce the hiring of Matt Verlinden as Director of Technology.

Verlinden brings with him more than 17 years of experience and has been with RQS since that time. He began his career as a computer programmer in the Business Office. In 2010, he was promoted to Assistant Director of Technology managing the operational and information systems teams for the district.

While in RQS, Verlinden has been actively involved in volunteering with the Raytown Educational Foundation for the last eight years, serving as treasurer for the last six. Verlinden served on a committee with the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education that researched and selected the state of Missouri's student information system.

Verlinden has a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from the University of Missouri. He is currently pursuing a Master of Business Administration from the University of North Carolina.

In his new role, Verlinden will manage the overall delivery of the technology program and services for the district. He will begin as Director of Technology on July 1.
